Winter

REMINDER

Winter's chill can wreak havoc on your home's plumbing if precautions aren't taken, leading to potentially costly repairs. To prevent broken pipes, it's essential to winterize your outdoor faucets and any vacant properties. Start by disconnecting hoses from outdoor spigots and draining them completely before storage. Insulate the faucets with covers designed to protect against freezing temperatures. For homes that will be unoccupied during the colder months, consider draining the water system entirely or keeping the heat on low to prevent pipes from freezing. Additionally, open cabinet doors under sinks to allow warm air to circulate around plumbing. By taking these steps, you can safeguard your home from winter's icy grip and ensure a worry-free season.
